Macro summary of coaching identity and results across the evidence sample

6 Coaching Philosophy, Game Model & Role Fit

A title ("Head Coach") tells you the position. It does not tell you what system the coach actually builds. Score the demonstrated system, not the job title.

6.1 Primary Tactical Identity

System type demonstrated

- ☐ Possession-dominant
- ☐ Direct
- ☐ Counter-attacking
- ☐ High press
- ☐ Low block
- ☐ Hybrid / mixed

Formation(s) used most

Formation flexibility

- ○ Fixed system
- ○ Adjusts between 2 systems
- ○ Highly flexible / multi-system

Defensive line height

Team tempo

6.2 In-Possession & Out-of-Possession Principles

Demonstrated in-possession principles (build-up structure, progression patterns, chance creation method)

Demonstrated out-of-possession principles (pressing triggers, block shape, defensive transition response)

6.3 Squad-Role Design

Does this coach assign players fixed positional jobs, or does the system ask players to carry a primary, secondary and situational role depending on the phase of play?

Role design approach

- ○ Fixed positional roles
- ○ Position + situational role hybrid
- ○ Fluid / rotational roles

Evidence of role fluidity (e.g. inverted full-backs, false nine, rotating pivots)

6.4 Player Development vs. Results Orientation

Demonstrated orientation

- ○ Results-first
- ○ Development-first
- ○ Balanced — evidence of both

Track record of individual player improvement under this coach

Track record of academy / youth integration into first team

6.5 In-Game Management

Demonstrated situational and game-state adjustments (half-time changes, late-game management, response to going behind/ahead)

6.6 Demonstrated vs. Projected System Fit

Never present a projected fit in the same terms as a demonstrated one.

Demonstrated system — what the evidence already shows this coach building repeatedly

Projected fit — what this coach could build in the target environment (a hypothesis, not a fact)

Projection basis — which demonstrated results/behaviours support it

Projection uncertainty — what evidence is still missing

6.7 System Portability

Adjacent systems / squad profiles this coach could credibly succeed with

Environment this evidence argues against (poor fit)

6.8 Target-Role Match & Evidence Confidence

Target-role match

- ○ Direct fit
- ○ Adaptable fit
- ○ Developmental fit
- ○ Poor fit

Evidence confidence

- ○ Verified
- ○ Strong evidence

- Provisional
- Early signal
- Insufficient evidence
